ITW Thermal Films Announces Its 2006 On-Time Delivery Performance Report

In today's competitive manufacturing economy, you need to increase efficiency to stay ahead. That's why ITW Thermal Films believes in driving economical savings by servicing our customers with delivery you can depend on.

ITW Thermal Films' business philosophy is 100% focused on our customers' needs. We have earned our reputation as the best in the industry and regularly outperform all of our competition across a wide range of metrics. There is no other TTR supplier in the marketplace that is "first in class" when it comes to on-time delivery.

Our customers perform regular, independent studies to measure our shipping performance and the most recent results confirmed our 99.9% on-time delivery performance record in 2006.

The entire ITW Thermal Films team is responsible for this new record – 99.9% delivery performance. All of our internal teams work closely together to give you timely and accurate order entry, order confirmation, streamlined manufacturing efficiencies, and all the collateral material you need to get the job done and meet your customer's needs.

Place an order from our product list today by 4:30 pm EST, and the order ships same day. We offer same day shipping on the industry's key SKU's and maintain the right size inventory that is available whenever you and your customers need it.

ITW Thermal Films has the industry's only completely stocked product list. Please visit:
